Duvine Beebe

duvine.beebe@erskine.edu

1/31/25

Dear Coach Sullivan,

I wanted to express how much I appreciate you for finding your way into my life and doing all the positive things you did without hesitation. You are a big part of who I am today.

For being there for me at my darkest times, getting hurt, and soothing my thoughts of worry when I did not have a clue if I would play again or play the same way again. For believing in and trusting me by putting the team on my back, making me a leader, and running the team through me as their captain.

Your genius in preparation, unwavering dedication, and hard work have deeply influenced me. Your love for football, combined with your humor, intelligence, charisma, meticulousness, and honesty, has always inspired me. These qualities have rubbed off on me, as we share many of the same traits. You taught me the importance of using my mind as much as my body to achieve my goals. Your advanced preparation techniques showed me how to meticulously study opponents to outsmart them. You instilled in me the value of extreme hard work and consistency, encouraging me to always express my creativity and talent, and to be a positive beacon to the world.

You have always been more than a coach to me. Your constant support, ability to spot when I was having trouble, and willingness to sit down and talk to me have profoundly shaped who I am today. You were always there for me when I needed you, always willing to go above and beyond what was expected. You have influenced my life by being a role model who practices what he preaches. Your calm and understanding nature have been pivotal for my growth.

I aspire to teach my players with the same dedication and optimism you instilled in me. I want to bring them around you so they can learn from your wisdom and guidance. My goal is to teach them to be extremely optimistic about the things

Duvine Beebe

duvine.beebe@erskine.edu

1/31/25

they invest their soul and attention into, to be dedicated but open-minded to new opportunities, and to work hard because time waits for no one. Most importantly, I want them to love the game, enjoy it, and conquer it with all their passion, just as you taught me.

Thank you for being a great, positive, and inspirational influence. Your lessons and support have molded me into the person I am today, and I hope to impart the same values to my players. Your impact on my life is immeasurable, and I am eternally grateful for everything you have done for me.

Sincerely,

Duvine Beebe